PERSPECTIVE

A Brave New World

Out of the smoke and ashes of Sept. 11, 2001 came some profound changes in our society. Out of the rubble came story after story of heroes, whether it was the passengers who stood up to the terrorists aboard the United Airlines flight that crashed in Pennsylvania, or the fitefighters, police and emergency personnel who so gallantly risked their lives to save others.

These people were brave not because they were paid to be, but because that is a part of who they are. I would like to say I am one of those brave individuals, but I'm not. I am, however, married to someone who is. Dottie gets involved in things normal people might not care to do which leads me to one of my stories.

It was the second morning of our family vacation this past July just off the North Carolina coust. We had decided to take a walk just the two of us, and as Dottie would say, get in tune with our feelings. We had been walking for about 30 minutes on an isolated stretch of beach when we heard yelling coming from the ocean. In the middle of the pounding waves were two women waving their arms. After Dottie yelled out, "Do you need help?" It became very obvious they were fighting for their lives. Unbeknownst to us, converging weather patterns had turned the ocean into a cauldron of rip tides and high surf.

As I began analyzing the situation, Dottie was already in motion. She handed me her sunglasses saying, "Hold these," and dove into the water. Hold these! Like I was going to wait on the beach while she rescues two women. Who the heck wears the parts in the household anyway? With that, my decision was made, not out of gallantry but out of shame, and I dove in. The first woman turned out to be the daughter of the second woman. The girl was frantic but strong enough to make it to where the surf was breaking. With God's will, I was able to grab her arm, and we struggled to safety. Out of breath and gasping for air, I looked up to witness Dottic no longer trying to save the mother's life, but was now in a struggle for her own. I remembered seeing a house down the beach, I sent the daughter minning to wake the residents and call for help, 1 stood, alone, yelling at Dottie, "Just float and don't fight the rip tide." The next few minutes seemed like an eternity. Soon a crowd of people came running down the beach to help. Four of us dragged Dottie out of the water, as two others on surfboards searched for the mother. They found her and brought her up on the beach, gave her mouth-to-mouth and a lot of prayers were answered.

In that long walk back to the beach house, I thought about being brave. Some people have it, and some people, like myself, have to work for it. Either way, our actions that day changed the way things might have been.

When | look back at these past two years and especially, the first three quarters of 2001, once again the word bravery comes to mind. When I asked you for double-digit growth, you dove into that sea of change the same way Dottie dove into that ocean. I asked you for 13 percent, and you returned with over 19 percent. I asked you to increase our Agent count, and you raised it from 1352 to 1720 in 10 short months. That is a 30 percent increase! And in September when terrorists wreaked havoc on our lives, and out economy, you received the message that the profession of selling life insumnce is a noble one. In this time of death and destruction, when people's minds are open to their own mortality. you stepped up to the front lines and displayed your pride, knowing we can talk to fumilies about protecting their loved ones.

So, as we finish up this last quarter of 2001 and we prepare to move into 2002. I ask you once again to be brave. We set a goal of $60 million in 2001, and you are meeting that goal with flying colors. We will hit our mark and certainly surpass it by another million. We are now taising the bar to $70 million for 2002. Some of you might be thinking a 20 percent increase this year, a 15 percent increase next - those are some lofty expectations. The reality is, just by shifting our thinking a little, embracing change and by being brave, we will get far past $70 million in 2002. Your achievements this year have changed the way things night have been. and you are my heroes. It is a brave new world out there, and it is all yours!

INSIGHT

I have had the privilege of working on many projects as American Income's Public. Relations Director, but none as exciting as the Public Relations Representatives' Resource Center. The PR Resource Center is an online training and information center designed to give PR Reps all the tools they need in order to build a successful career.

In order for you to succeed in today's marketplace, it is imperative you have the tools you need all in one place. The Resource Center is a one-stop venue where you can find information on the marketplace and company tools - from forms to presentation materials. You also have access to financial contributions and servicing kits. This is one stop shopping where you can find everything and anything - except the kitchen sink!

The Resource Center is meant to be a dynamic force in providing you with needed skills as well as up-and-coming market opportunities. I am thoroughly convinced that to meet the challenges of growth and expansion we must embrace all that > technology has to offer to keep us in tune with the fast-paced changes in our ever-changing markets.

from the desk of Denise Bowyer National Public Relations Director

I am inviting you to explore this new tool and use it to help plan your market strategies and set your goals for 2002. You can access the online Resource Center by logging onto www.ailife.com and clicking on PR Resource Center. Once you have had a chance to sift through the information provided at this site, I would love to get your feedback. Your input as to what you want will be a vital component to your individual and our collective success with this project. E-mail your suggestions to me at bowyerdenise@gwest.net. This site is a tool, but its success starts with you!

We must open the doors of opportunity. But we must also equip people to walk through those doors."

- Lyndon Johnson

LABOR ADVISORY BOARD

The AIL Labor Advisory Board Welcomes...

Bruce Raynor, President of the Union of Needletrades, Industrial and Textile Employees, was unanimously elected to American Income Life's Labor Advisory Board in early October. Mr. Raynor has 28 years of union experience and will be a tremendous asset to AiL's premier labor council.

In 1995 The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union and the

Bruce S. Raynor President of the Union of Needletrades. Industrial and Textile Employees

Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union voted to merge forming UNITE, the Union of Needletrades. Industrial and Textile Employees. UNITE, a preeminent apparel and textile union, represents over 250,000 workers across Canada, the United States and Puerto Rico.

Mr. Raynor began his career in the education department of the former Textile Workers Union of America in 1973 and became the Education Director of that union in 1974. Raynor continued his move up the union leadership ladder when he was elected International Vice President of the ACTWU in 1981, and was later elected to the post of Executive Vice President.

Bruce Raynor began his involvement with UNITE in 1995 when he was elected Executive Vice President at the founding convention. Raynor was then elected Secretary-Treasurer in 1998 and was re-elected to the position in 1999. He remained Secretary-Treasurer until July 2001 when he was elected President. Mr. Raynor's election to the Office of President follows the retirement of his predecessor, Jay Mazur.

Mr. Raynor has played an important role in UNITE's development since 1995, including helping to expand health and pension benefits to lowwage workers. He is also responsible for UNITE's national organizing program, in which capacity he is credited with innovative and aggressive tactics which have led the way for the entire labor movement. He was recently elected to the AFL-CIO Executive Council and is Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the UNITE national pension and insurance program.

We are looking forward to Mr. Raynor's valued contribution to AlL's Labor Advisory Board.

Congratulations!

If You Like Our Beaches, You Should See Our Sand Castles.

When most people think of the French Riviera, they think of white, sandy beaches. Although the sand and sea offers the allure of the sub-tropics, to think only of beaches would be like thinking of art as only landscapes or literature as only poetry. The Riviera has been the world's playground for centuries, and there are plenty of ways to play: spectacular musuems, lively open-air markets, and plenty of castles!

The Riviera has it all

. .oh, and beaches too.
